On 1st July 2008, Northern Ireland Environment Agency became Northern Ireland Environment Agency

NORTHERN IRELAND ENVIRONMENT AGENCY
DEPARTMENT OF THE ENVIRONMENT

HISTORIC MONUMENTS OF NORTHERN IRELAND

Northern Ireland Environment Agency: Built Heritage identifies, protects, records, investigates and presents Northern Ireland's heritage of archaeological and historic sites and monuments. The Department has statutory responsibility for the sites and monuments in these lists which are protected under the Historic Monuments and Archaeological Objects (NI) Order 1995. They are presented here in two parts, 1 & 2, and are listed in alphabetical order of townland name within each county.

Part 1: Scheduled Historic Monuments at October 2012

This schedule is compiled and maintained by the Department and is available for public consultation at the Monuments and Buildings Record, Waterman House, 5-33 Hill Street, Belfast BT1 2LA. Additions and amendments are made throughout each year and this list supersedes all previously issued lists. To date there are 1,982 scheduled historic monuments.

It is an offence to damage or alter a scheduled site in any way. No works should be planned or undertaken at the sites listed here without first consulting with NIEA: Built Heritage and obtaining any necessary Scheduled Monument Consent. The unique reference number for each site is in the last column of each entry and should be quoted in all correspondence.

The work of scheduling is ongoing, and the fact that a site is not in this list does not diminish its unique archaeological importance. The Northern Ireland Sites and Monuments Record (NISMR) has information on some 16,450 sites of which this scheduled list is about 10% at present. There is a separate Industrial Heritage Record of 16,489 entries, a Maritime Record and a Historic Gardens Register, all of which may appear as references in the schedule from time to time. These Records may be consulted by the public through the Monuments and Buildings Record at Waterman House, 5-33 Hill Street, Belfast BT1 2LA. An electronic version of NISMR and a web mapping application are available on www.doeni.gov.uk/niea

Most scheduled monuments are privately owned and are not normally accessible to the public.

SITE PROTECTION

While the contents of these lists are not confidential. We would not want them used as pointers to sites for unlicensed treasure-hunting, which is strictly illegal under The Historic Monuments and Archaeological Objects (Northern Ireland) Order 1995. All searching for archaeological objects without a licence is an offence and it is also an offence to be in possession of a detection device on a protected site. Any third party enquiries about the location of archaeological sites should be referred to Northern Ireland Environment Agency unless you are completely satisfied as to the enquirer's motives.
